oh father tell me why it was – not his time he was so wild so strong and now he's forever gone oh father tell me how how can i bear this pain he's so much more than a friend now i am goin' insane

wake up – wake up
 it can't always be the same wake up – a hidden face won't stop the rain

 wake up – a hidden face won't stop the rain

i'm going back in time when life was easy, just fine there's nothing we couldn't win never stop chasing the wind i can still hear him say that life is just a game tell me why did he loose now everything is in vain there's no one to blame for the lapse of a flame there's so much left – but still i am – i'm falling a-a-part-part - a-a-part-part memories in a frame forever calling your name there is so much left – but still i am – i'm falling a-a-part-part – a-a-part-part

i'm falling down to the ground falling down on my knees there's nothing more to achieve i'm falling down – down go now start to preach the same watch out – watch out life can't complain go now try to reach the same watch out – watch out life can't complain

loosing faith, loosing me
i'm falling down – down

come – come around listen to what i say spit out – spit out – throw them away come – come around listen to what i say spit out your fears – give them away

 watch out – watch out life can't complain
